REPORT ON RS CONFERENCE , VARANASI

Flux to Flow: Turning Mirrors into Windows

This was the theme of the Round Square Conference held at Sunbeam School ,Lahartara, Varanasi from 24 April to 26 April 2018. Eight delegates along with the teacher escort Ms. Shalini Agrawal from the school were part of this conference where seven other schools from across the country joined SKV . This conference was based on the two pillars of Round Square - Democracy and Leadership. The curator of the conference was Mr. Parnab Mukherji , a knowledge consultant and a theatre nomad. He was accompanied by the keynote speakers Ms. Asiya Zahoor , a poet and an author from Kashmir and Mr. Sahaj Umang Singh Bhatia, an installation artist and short documentary maker. During the different Baraza sessions , the delegates had an insight into these through role plays, group discussions and different activities .

Visit to different sites like Dhamek Stupa at Sarnath, Gurudham Temple, Anndh Vidyalaya, Trade Facilitation Centre, Vishwanath Temple , Assi Ghat , Balaji Temple, Bharat Mata Temple and Banaras Hindu University added the cultural dimension to the conference. Concern for the deprived sections of the society and to be gratified with what one has was one of the greatest learnings after visiting the Anndh Vidyalaya. Detailed Baraza sessions after every visit proved to be very fruitful and qualitative for the delegates. The three- days' conference was an amalgamation of knowledge, culture, communication and fun.

BIRD WATCHING

On 23rd April , a group of bird watchers set out to chhattri for a field visit. Chhattri is a place built by the Scindias in the memory of their ancestors. ## Report on Jordan Round Square Service Project

A group of five girls accompanied by the Vice Principal, attended a Round Square Service Project in Jordan from the 1st to the 8th of April. This service project was organised by the King's Academy, Amaan, under the aegis of Round Square.

The group left for Jordan on the 31st of March. A total of seven schools participated in this project. Upon arrival in Amman, the delegates were taken to Madaba, a small town not too far away. After settling into the hotel, the delegates were taken to Mount Nebo, one of the most important pilgrimage sites for Christians. Once all the teams had arrived, the entire delegation left for Ajloun, a small town situated in the hills. Here they were introduced to the Habitat for Humanity Foundation, Manager, who explained the project that they were going to be involved in.

The students were taken to a construction site where they worked on the construction of two houses for less privileged families. The work involved mixing cement, lugging bricks and then building the walls. Students worked for five to six hours a day. This not only helped them in learning about team building, sharing responsibilities, but also made them aware of the lives of those less fortunate than them. The feeling of satisfaction at having helped someone was indescribable. The icing on the cake was when the students were able to meet the family for whom they were building the house. It made the project more real and the smiles said it all. The last day at the work site the students were thanked by the family. Even though there was a lot left to be done, everyone was glad to have been part of the process.

Besides all the hard work, students were taken to various important sights in the evenings. They visited, the Ajloun Castle, the Soap House and Biscuit House among other places. A visit to the Dead Sea was a must. Floating in the Dead Sea was amazing. Of course, no delegate returned empty handed as all of them bought packets of Dead Sea mud face packs!! Finally after five days of hard work the delegates were back in Madaba. The last day was reserved for visiting Petra. A three hour drive did not dampen anyone's enthusiasm. The long walk through the natural tunnels was intriguing enough and the sight of the Petra caves was astounding. It was a great learning experience.

The Service Project was an amazing opportunity for the students to learn about other cultures and people. It also helped them learn a lot about themselves, while teaching them important qualities like dignity of labour, importance of cooperation and the sweat and blood involved in physical labour. Stepping out of one's comfort zone always makes one realise one's true potential. Stepping out into the world makes us realise that there is so much out there.

Report of "The world heritage day"

On 18th of April a group of 6 students on the occasion of "The World Heritage Day" went on a heritage trail organized by the Jai Vilas Palace. There were three sites that we covered .Bateshwar, Gadi Padawali, and Mitawali.

We set out from the school at 8.00am and went to the Museum, where 5 other schools from Gwalior joined us.

Our first destination was the Bateshwer group of temples. There are a group of 365 temples which are being restored by the ASI.

Our second destination was Gadi Padawali.It is a temple which has beautiful carvings.It was made during 8-10 century. It is an ornamental temple of Shiva.

Our final destination was Mitawali, we had to climb up a hill ,but as soon as we saw the structure our weariness disappeared.

The Chausath yogini temple design has inspired the design of our parliament house in New Delhi.

In the end , we would like to say that the visit was a very nice experience and despite the fact that the heat was unbearable we will always remember the things we learned.

Thanks to Principal Ma'am and Vice Principal Ma'am,
