Sanskrit Workshop at SKV ▾

On 3rd of December 2019, a Sanskrit workshop was conducted in order to garner the interest in Sanskrit among the students of SKV. The workshop was organised by Mrs. Indu Chaturvedi, HOD Indian Languages. Interesting facts about the Sanskrit language were shared with the students, including the reason why NASA uses the language to develop their computer programmes. The students learnt that Sanskrit is a universal language which is taught worldwide, including various institutions in the western world such as St. James School (Ireland), Oxford and Cambridge Universities and various German Universities.

The students were also told about the famous “World Sanskrit Conference” of 2019, where around 5000 fluent Sanskrit speakers from 21 countries participated, making it truly an international event. Mrs. Indu Chaturvedi herself was one of the participants at the Conference, and she shared her experiences with the students. During the two-hour workshop the students learnt how globalised the Sanskrit language has become and how significant it is in the 21st century.

Fireless Cooking at SKV ▼

The fireless cooking activity drew to a close after 20 days of delicious and innovative recipes. All the classes took turns and came up with both traditional and continental recipes through the course of the activity, leaving everyone amazed at the simplicity of the dishes and wondering as to how these were made so well with just ordinary ingredients.

The delicious recipes included multi-layered colourful sandwiches, bread pizza rolls, mexican nachos, chaat papdi and many more.

Developing a Green Thumb ▼

Under the direction of Mr. Arun Raut, SKV students are learning Bonsai: the ancient art of growing plants or trees in containers or trays which symbolize harmony, honour, patience and happiness.

Art and Creativity Workshop at SKV ▼

An involvement with art teaches us how to innovatively express oneself, manage risk, and handle failure. Art is not a luxury, it is a necessity to shape a well-rounded individual. With this aim in mind, an exclusive three days art and creativity workshop was organised by the reputed artist Suruchi Jain for the staff and students. Participants created their individual painting. Using the basic idea of STEAM (an amalgamation of science, technology, engineering, art and maths) the groups were encouraged to collaborate and allow their imagination to run free, while working in a team.

Cleanliness is next to Godliness ▼

Dr Shalini Agarwal, HM Holding House, led the youngest SKVians in a cleanliness drive. The girls were divided into groups, then assigned with areas and tasks of cleaning the floor, windows and other spaces in the dormitories and corridors.

They thoroughly enjoyed working with their dormmates and learned important lessons regarding dignity of labour, team work, cooperation and cleanliness.

Treasure Hunt at SKV ▼

A fun filled maths treasure hunt was conducted on 7th Dec, 2019 for classes VI, VII and VIII. The venues for the hunt included the area around the Banyan Tree for class VI, the junior section for class VII and the Vijaya Garden for class VIII.

The students had an interesting day filled with meaningful engagement. They loved the treasure hunt and participated in it very enthusiastically.

Mount Abu Adventure Tour ▾

14 students with two escort teachers departed for IAYP Mount Abu Adventure Tour from Gwalior on 21st December. Next morning they climbed and descended a 30 feet high rock as well as indulged in rappelling. They also went on an adventurous trek of five kilometres post lunch. It was a great experience for all.

Sahodaya Science ▾ Exhibition

Sahodaya science exhibition was held at India International Public School on 7th December. Six schools participated in the event to compete to win the best idea for a sustainable future.

SKVian Sai Vira Gupta from class IX presented a working model of "Green Cell - Clean Power" based on Microbial fuel cell and SKVian Aanvi Dhorelia from class VII presented a working model on "Harnessing Infrared Radiations emitted by Air Conditioner". Sai Vira stood third in the competition. The exhibition was a huge learning experience for the students as they saw good working models of interesting ideas for the future.

Sahodaya Inter-school ▾ Dance Competition

Sahodaya inter-school solo dance competition was held on 12th December, 2019 at Ebenezer H. Sec. School, DD Nagar, Gwalior. The competition saw two participants each from 13 schools.

SKVian Rhytham Garg (Class IX) of Usha House participated and performed a Shiva Tandav using the medium of classical Kathak dance. SKVians Stuti & Shraddha Sharma (Class IX) of Usha House performed kathak Tarana, Tode-tukade and Tatkar. Rhytham Garg got the 2nd runner-up trophy.

International Adolescent Summit ▾

The students of class VII competed in an inter-school collage making competition conducted at the ITM Global School Gwalior. Located on the outskirts of the city, the school considers itself to be enthusiastic in their capacity of sharing their love for arts with other schools around them.

The International Adolescent Summit by Expressions India under the aegis of CBSE was conducted on 12th and 13th December in Delhi. A team of 5 girls from SKV participated in the Summit. They took part in various events like, The Myriad (The global health and wellness exhibition), Rhetorics, Yuva Sansad, Utopia, Surtaal and Nukkad Natak.

The students received the Special Jury award on the Myriad and the Outstanding Performance award in Rhetorics. Additionally, all students received medals of honour.

This can be seen through the numerous paintings, statues and sculptures placed around the school corridors, the art room and even outside the school building. Our students were greatly inspired by this fervent dedication to the arts. Rishika and Arya secured the third place in the competition, while Vanya and Anshika secured the consolation prize.

Vidhishree Bansal received first prize of Rs 51000/- for her art work at the Amity University Art Fest on 22nd December, 2019.

SGFI Taekwondo Nationals Championship ▾

Six students from SKV and seven girls from three other IPSC schools participated in the SGFI Taekwondo Nationals Championship held at Vidisha, (MP) from 17th to 22nd December 2019, where 27 teams from across the country participated. Aastha Sharma (Wt. Ct.-38-42) from SKV, won two bouts against Navodaya and Assam team. Shruti Agarwal (55-59 kg) from SKV, Gwalior won one bout against Punjab team. Everybody appreciated them for team coordination, discipline and sportsmanship.

Round Square Fun Fair ▶

The Round Square Committee of SKV organised a 'Fun Fair' for all the students on December 18th. There were wonderful performances of dance, music and drama at MJS Hall organized by various societies. The much awaited highlight of the evening was a dance party along with an al fresco buffet with a sumptuous spread for all. The cold nip in the weather did not deter the young crowd from having the time of their lives!

Round Square Conference ▼

Eight students of SKV, along with a teacher escort attended the Round Square Conference hosted by the Punjab Public School, Nabha, from the 8th to 11th of September. The conference was themed 'Environment', where children in the age group of 7-14 years formed barazza groups, to discuss various issues relating to the environment and the fragile ecosystem. They came away after gaining good insights into this very essential issue of today.

Teacher Training ▾

A workshop for the PE (Physical Education) teachers was held at Central Academy School, Gwalior (MP) on 14th December. The day-long workshop, attended by 58 participants, consisted of five sessions after an introduction session for 'Khelo India', a national program by the Ministry of Sports and Youth Affairs under the Government of India.

The Khelo India 'Battery of Fitness Assessment Tests' was introduced to the participants via videos along with the 'assessor app & web portal' for schools. The participants were taken to the ground to show them how to record children's data using the app and the portal. Participants were showed how to calculate and upload data for different tests such as BMI, balancing, 50-meter race, push-ups, etc. The concluding session was about the importance of healthy living. The resource person for this session, Mr. Neeraj Mishra explained the ways for reducing weight and maintaining a healthy lifestyle.

Farewell Invitations ▾

After days of waiting and anticipation, the 12th graders and the entire school on 17th December finally got a glimpse of the special evening organised by class XI for the 'Farewell' of class XII. The farewell invitation comprised of an introduction of the characters, and an energetic dance performance, followed by a beautiful setup in the evening with personal gift boxes for each 12th grader containing cupcakes, invitation card, balloons and an entry pass!

The Farewell for class XII given by the class XI students, took place on the 19th December. Though it would be another three months before class XII actually go, their impending absence was felt very strongly by their juniors. It was wonderful to observe the graduating batch walking down the red carpet elegantly dressed in colourful sarees.

The variety entertainment programme, facetiously titled "Chaos", had with it a strong message - that there was none so fabulous a lifestyle than the one that SKVians are already living! The evening concluded with a buffet dinner.

Alumni visit to school ▾

Alumni Sonali Suryavanshi (class of 2005) visited SKV with her fiancée Raghav Podar who runs over a hundred schools across the country which are synonymous with high quality education.

Service activity Sankalp ▾

On 21st December, four girls along with Adarsh Sharma, visited Sirol Village near Gwalior. The inhabitants of Sirol were instructed on the importance of women's hygiene and the use of sanitary napkins. Before leaving napkins were distributed to the women of the village.
